PLUNGER RYAN A HORSEOWNER

PAUL CLIFFORD CARRIES HIS COLORS AT BENNINGS.

Heavily Backed by the Get-Rich-Quick Man, the Old Gelding Loses-Mr. Taylor's Steeplechase Surprise-Saddle Honors for Cormack and McCue.

WASHINGTON, April 11 .- John J. Ryan, the "get-rich-quick" man, who was barred from the Jockey Club tracks last year only to be reinstated several weeks ago, came into particular prominence at Bennings to-day when Paul Clifford ran in the first race carrying his colors and being carded in his name. Ryan made himself conspicuous last season the Eastern tracks by plunging and winning large sums, but he did not attempt to blossom out as an owner of racehorses. A. Molinelli sold Paul Clifford to Ryan before the first race to-day, which was a handicap at six furlongs. The old Lissak gelding picked up 126 pounds, had Burns in the saddle and up 126 pounds, had burns in the saddle and ruled favorite at 8 to 5. Toscan, with 123 pounds, was second in favor at threes, while ruled favorite at 6 to 5. Toscan, with 125 pounds, was second in favor at threes, while Mrs. Frank Foster was well liked at 9 to 2.

Toscan got away first, but gave way quickly to Mrs. Frank Foster, who showed the way, closely attended by Toscan and Paul Clifford, to the head of the stretch. At that point Briacthorie, 10 to 1, who had begun slowly, beg.n to close rapidly, and McCue, taking the rail, came on driving to victory by two lengths in 118 4-5. Foscan was a length helor e Paul Clifford. It was generally understood after the race that Plunger Ryan backed his gelding in characteristic fashion.

John E. Madden started a couple of his two-year-olds in the second event, at four and a half furiongs. They were Wild Irishman, by Bowling Brook or Filigrane—Correction, and Bellindlan, a son of Belvidere and Elilian Lindsay. They were coupled at 8 to 1, James McLaughlin's Ben Strome colt Pasadena being favorite at 4 to 5, and Mon Amour, the Montana filly, ruling second in favor at threes. Wild Irishman, who is a half brother to the Futurity winner Yankee, broke in front and led Mon Amour and Pasadena by a small margin until well into the stretch, where he showed that he was short and stopped. Then Pasadena looked the winner at the last six teenth pole, but Cormack put up a strong ride on R. W. Walden's Lilly Brook, 7 to 1, who won by a neck, Pasadena finishing in the place ten lengths before Mon Amour. The time was 0.59 2-5 of Grazialle, carrying the colors of the Columbia Stable, had the third event, at six furlongs, completely at his mercy. He was a prohibitive favorite at 1 to 5 and, under a tight pull all the way, he won galloping, by four lengths, Cormack easing him up in the last furlong. Tomood, backed heavily for the place, tired near the end and Gold Dome beat him by beat him by eight lengths.

R. M. Taylor, the well known gentleman rider, sprang a surprise in the madden steeple-chase, and incidentally made his many followers among the running last for three-quarters of a mile, Nine Spot, half a dozen len

Ex-Mayor Low Buys the Fast Yacht Sun-L. Hutchinson of Morrisown, N. J., has sold the steam yacht Sunbeam to ex-Mayor Low through the agency of Stanley M. Sea-of New York. The Sunbeam has a raded speed of 19.2 miles. She is a double the double of the heart and 3 feet 6 inch beam and 3 feet 6 inch draft. She built in 1903 by the Herreshoff Manuact. ing Company.

The Sunbeam is equipped with a Herreshold triple expansion engine running in oil, and a Thorneycroft type boiler. She is now hauled out at Bristol and will be taken to Greenport, N. Y., to fit out by Capt. Rackett, after which she will proceed to Bar Harbor, Me., ready for her new owner upon his return from Europe.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. Prospective Field for the Carter Handlean at Aqueduct.

Turfmen are already figuring on the prob-able starters in the Carter Handicap, seven furlongs, to be run at Aqueduct on Friday. It has been officially announced that C. J. Fitzgerald will start this event and all races at Aqueduct, which probably means that he will work at alternate meetings with Mars Cassidy, except such time as the latter is called to the Buffalo meetings. The Aque-duct track, according to Supt. Joseph Reilly, will be in splendid condition for the opening day. All of the stable room has been taken, and many horses racing there will be quartered at Jamaica. Beginning to-day the horses that have been racing at Washington will be unloaded here from the cars, going direct to the tracks bordering on the shores of Jamaica Bay. Indications point to a large field in the Carter Handicap. At present these horses are expected to go to the post: Grand Opera, Fire Eater, Buttons, Masterman, Red Knight, Rosetint, Rostand, Tribes Hill, Ascension, Bardolph, Ahumada, Stevedore, Sweet Alice, Lord Badge, Beldame, Courtmaid, Wotan, De Reszke, Peter Paul, Little Em, Conkling and Spring. and Spring. Those that are regarded with special favor by the smart men of the turf are Rosetint, who will be ridden by Fuller; Rostand, with H. Phillips up; Tribes Hill, with Shaw; Ascension, with Burns; Beldame, with O'Neil; Wotan with Treubel; Peter Paul, with Hildebrand; Conkling, with E. Walsh, and Spring, with Hennessy.

During the Aqueduct meeting Jockey Shaw will be in the charge of Frank Weir, trainer for Frank Farrell. Shaw has been under the direction of W. P. Burch at Bennings, but the latter will not race until the Westchester meeting.

John E. Madden has decided not to bring his big stable to the local tracks until after the meeting at Jamaica. He will take his time with the string at Bennings.

There was no let-up in the training of racehorses at Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay yesterday, in spite of the cold raw wind that blew in from the sea and the heavy going at both tracks. At the Bay A. J. Joyner, who is rapidly regaining his former good health, was out early with the Haggin and Paget strings. He kept an eye on both Waterboy and Hamburg Belle, the two horses that won more money for his employers last year than any of the others. Waterboy, who is still the magnificent individual of a year ago, enjoyed a long jog, with a stable boy up, and then got a half mile breather in 0:57%.

Hamburg Belle, the Futurity winner, who has been picked by many to win one of the big handicaps, covered the same distance in 0:57 and seems to be coming to hand nicely. Joyner sent his two-year-olds in two divisions over the three furlong route at a good clip. He will have several ready for Aqueduct and Jamaica.

S. Brown's Broomstick and H. B. Durvea's Acefull worked three furlongs at about the same time and were clocked in 0:44% and 0:43%, respectively. John A. Drake's Ort Wells and South Trimble were timed over a similar distance in 0:42%. Fred Littlefield sent Funnyside and Turquoise Blue along together in 0:43. Other horses out at the Bay were Tantalus Cup, Gay Lothario, Black Socks, Belle of Belle Meade, Juba and

The event of the day at Gravesend was the appearance of the famous "iron horse" Advance Guard, owned by Thomas & Shields. The old fellow looked high in flesh and far from being ready for a race, but he was sent to a slow gallop for two miles and pulled up sound in wind and limb. Jack Odom has Mattle Corbett's useful string in good shape. He let Dazzling and Hurst Park turn six furlongs in 1:22 1-5, with Out of Reach, Dovecote and several two-year-olds enjoying breathers. The Carter Handicap candidate, Rostand, breezed six furlongs in 1:27, on the bit. Hydrangea, Jockey Club, F. E. Shaw, Ducan, General Roberts, Hyland, Partnership, Billy Roche, Hello, Reticent, Luminosity and Linarka were also working during the day.

John Bullman, who will ride as a free lance this year, will have his engagements made by John J. Hyland.

Public School Athletic League Defines a

The Public School Athletic League has taken time by the forelock and, before any of taken time by the lorelock and, believen any of its big outdoor meets, has defined what constitutes a novice. This definition which has been adopted by the league applies to all events held under its sanction, both high and elementary schools, within the district of Greater New York. It is as follows:

A novice is one who has never won a prize in competition open to two or more schools or organizations. As the District League games are almoly preliminary heats of the novice and championship meets, a boy who secures first, second or third place in these games shall not be considered to have lost his noviceship.

Should a boy win a prize in a relay race, or even should he be a member of a winning team to which a trophy only, and not individual prizes, is given, he shall no longer be considered a novice.

The following classes of competition are separate and distinct from one another, and the winning of a prize in any one of them does not bar a boy from competition in a novice event in any of the other classes: Running, hurdle racing, jumping, pole vaulting, putting the shot. its big outdoor meets, has defined what con-

FOSS TALKS OF PARIS MATCH.

CRACK BILLIARD PLAYER EX-PLAINS HIS DEFEAT.

Not in France Long Enough to Perfect His Nursing-Rerolle, the Winner in International Contest, Depends on Open Play and Is a Great Cushion Player. After recovering from the effects of his voyage across the Atlantic, Wilson P. Foss found time yesterday to talk of his defeat by Lucien Rerolle in Paris in their recent international amateur billiard match at 18-jach balk line, two shots in.

"In the first place," said Foss, "I have no excuse to make for my defeat, which was accomplished in the third night's play, after I had obtained what may have appeared to be a winning lead in the two previous nights' work. Yet I think that the match was played too soon after my arrival in Paris. If it had begun two weeks instead of one after my reaching there, I should probably by that time have thoroughly regained my and legs.

my play throughout the match. Spread draws and follows, with accurate driving, kept me ahead of my opponent the first two nights. Yet on both these nights I did not play up to my standard, inasmuch as my strong point is close balkline work. The table seemed to be fast, and I could not hold the balls together when once I succeeded in gathering them.

"After the second night's play, in returning to my quarters in a cab, the driver had the misfortune to run into another vehicle. ing to my quarters in a cab, the driver had the misfortune to run into another vehicle. In the head-on collision his horse was killed. The shake-up, however, did not seem to affect me, for on the following night I felt as good as on either of the two previous nights. Beginning with a good lead over my opponent and encouraged by the Americans and many of the Frenchmen present, there seemed every reason why I should win the match. But the balls would not roll properly. I could not nurse, and open table shots I missed by the narrowest of margins.

"As to Rerolle, his entire play is in the open. He never depends upon the balk line nurse. Rarely does he miss a draw or a massé. His cushion work is so accurate and well judged that I doubt if any professional can excel him at it. In his highest run, 129, and in all his other high runs he gave a splendid exhibition of open table manipulation. He is the best player among all the amateurs in Paris. In fact, he stands in a class all by himself over there.

"Rerolle will play a return match with me in this city. Before I left Paris he promised me that he would come over this fall and play me in this city. If I play my game I am confident I can defeat him. By playing my game I mean doing well at nursins."

Foss said that he was unable to arrange a match for George Slosson with Cure. The latter is making something like $25,000 a year in his academy and he wants a fabulous sum to repay him for coming over here to play. Just before Foss sailed, Cure was matched to play Schaefer a six nights match at 18-inch balk line, two shots in, 600 points a night. Foss did not see Schaefer play while there, but he was told that the American is not in good form. Foss brought with him a souvenir facsimile of the gold medal that Rerolle won by defeating him.

NATIONALS BEAT JERSEY CITY. New Yorks Make Their First Home Appearance of the Season. The New York Nationals yesterday played their first home game of the season, defeating the Eastern League champions of Jersey City at the Polo Grounds by a score of 7 to 1. A good sized crowd of cranks was on hand to get an idea, if possible, of how the New Yorks would fare in this year's pennant strife. They saw a team in good condition as a result of the Southern trip and one with a materially strengthened infield. They also saw a learn playing the same old hustling McGraw tactics-always on the move, alert and constantly manœuvring to turn a trick.

The batting of the New Yorks was nothing impressive, Jersey City errors helping in the run getting, but hits were bunched nicely in one inning, the base running was brisk and some fast work, which took in a good deal of ground, was done by the infield.

Mathewson and McGinnity pitched for McGraw's mer, and shaped up in a manner to indicate that they are again in to cut a wide swath in National League company. They worked easily and smoothly, had fine control, and, so far as opposing batters were concerned, always had the situation well in hand.

concerned, always had the situation well in hand.

Foxen, the Jersey City southpaw pitcher, spent a good deal of his time developing a throw to catch base runners at first base. "Face the batter, you!" Bresnahan commanded, after narrowly missing being caught. One base runner, Mertes, was caught napping. In the third inning Umpire Hornung's knee stopped a swiftly batted ball, the knee swelling up to the size of a watermelon before the game was over. George Browne peeled off three bunts in succession and made a nice play when he took a fly ball and doubled up a runner at first base.

The outfield was soggy and soft, but with the improvements being made the grounds will be far more attractive than heretofore. The entrance is now a two story building with a Swiss cottage effect, a new twenty-five cent seat stand has been put up back of centre field, the fifty-cent seats have been enlarged, and the whole playing field raised. The infield looks to be in better condition and harder than ever before. Stone and iron scrapings have been mixed in with the dirt underneath to give hardness and compactness. There also is some fancy landscape gardening around the plate and pitcher's box

Sunday Games to Be Tried at Washington

President Ebbets of the Brooklyn Base-President Ebbets of the Brooklyn Base-ball Club last night announced his inten-tion to follow the example of ball clubs of this vicinity by inaugurating Sunday ball at Washington Park. He says he has fully considered the matter and thinks that by not charging an admission fee, as the other clubs are doing, he can come within the require-ments of the law. The idea will be tried next Sunday, but as yet he has not decided on the opponents for his team.

AMATEUR DRIVERS MEET. Rules Adopted to Govern Matinee Meetings of Associated Clubs. Representatives of the League of Amateur Driving Clubs met at the Hoffman House last night to revise some of the rules and add others to cover the new order of things in accordance with the ruling of the National Trotting Association, which allows members of the league to give a three days amateur neeting each year at which admission fees may be charged without incurring the penalty of records for the horses.

There were present H. K. Devereux, president of the league and representing Cleveland at the conference; C. K. G. Billings for the Memphis Club; Charles C. Lloyd, representing New York: Senator Horace White of Syracuse and T. L. Quimby, Boston. The Chicago, Pittsburg and Columbus clubs were represented by proxy.

When the congress of the National Trotting Association granted the privilege to amateur associations it was stipulated that this priv-Association granted the privilege to amateur associations it was stipulated that this privilege was conferred only on clubs which were members of this league. This put upon the officers of the league the responsibility for conducting the meetings in such a manner as to give no chance for adverse criticism. Among the rules passed last night was one which stated that at their special matinée meetings, where gate money is charged, the entire programme must be made up of amateur events to wagon or under saddle. Another rule provides that all funds derived from admission fees or other sources of revenue must be disbursed for the expenses incurred and for no other purpose.

The executive committee of the league is H. K. Devereux, C. K. G. Billings, C. C. Lloyd, Senator White and T. L. Quimby, and the rules now provide that no club member can hold a special matinée without first applying for dates and approval from this executive committee. This is to avoid any conflict of dates for intercity meets and also to safeguard the sport as the national association implied in granting the privilege.

English 'Varsity Team May Play Our Collegians Here This Summer.

Although there will be no challenge for the Davis international tennis cup this year, it is hoped that English and American college it is hoped that English and American college players may meet in a series of matches. According to B. S. Prentice of Harvard, the president of the Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association, every effort is being made to induce the English collegians to visit this country this summer. A team of Oxford and Cambridge has been invited, and there is every prospect of a meeting, provided the financial end of the trip can be arranged. Some definite announcement will be made later.
The annual tennis match between Harvard

The annual tennis match between Harvard and Yale has been arranged for Saturday, May 28, on the grounds of the New Haven Tennis Club. Six men will represent each college, three teams in the doubles and six matches in the singles. Last year Harvard won by six matches to three.

Of the old Harvard team, B. S. Prentice, captain; J. I. B. Larned and R. Bishop are still in college. Of the Yale team, E. Clapp, T. B. Cole and T. Lewis, captain, will play again this year.

creased quantity. Patient-I have drank for twenty-five years and have never been intoxicated. Physician—Do you believe what you say? No, you do not, nor do I. Intoxication does not necessarily mean that a man must fall in the street and be carried home. Any man who has imbibed sufficient alcohol to make him boastful or irritable, or whose ideas are stimulated, or who has slept very soundly from its effect, has been intoxicated. This is also only a matter of degree. Patient-I don't need treatment, I can stop drinking any time I want to.

Physician—How many times have you so resolved and as often failed? But possibly, according to your own statement, you don't really want to stop. I am sure you do. But you fail to recognize that your failure is due to an uncontrollable physical demand for stimulants, just as there is a demand for food at regular intervals. The only difference being that one is a demand for something natural, the other a demand for something unnatural, the one an evidence of health the other an evidence of disease. is just as reasonable to expect a man not to take stimulants, when they are demanded, as it is to expect a child not to eat when there is a call for food.

Patient-I never drank until I was ill, and it was given me as a medicine. I have felt the need ever since.

Physician-It does not matter why you first took it, the condition is alcoholism just the same. The weak-ened physical condition for which you began using it made you doubly sus-ceptible to its effect—hence your sudden and permanent addiction.

FOR FITZ'S SERVICES. Chicago Club Offers $3,500 for Him to Box Six Rounds.

Fitzsimmons is to fight again. His next appearance in the ring will in all proba-bility be at Chicago. The other day Fitz received an offer of $3,500 from Charles Felte, matchmaker of the Waverly A. C., to meet John Willie, the Western heavyweight, in a six round bout on May 2. Although he has not accepted the offer, the chances are that he will do so before the week is out. Fitz originally asked for $3,500 win, lose or draw. But Felie was not inclined to make such a guarantee in view of the fact that boxing bouts do not draw as well in Chicago at present as formerly. The recent tilt between Young Corbett and Young Mowatt was a disappointment from a financial point

There is a good chance of Kid McCoy and the Cornishman coming together. Al Smith said yesterday that McCoy's forfeit of $1,000, which George Considine left there for the Kid a few weeks ago, has not as yet been covered. Dwight Boys Beat New York University It is understood, however, that Fitz will cover the money within the next few days. cover the money within the next lew days. Before Billy Delaney left for the Pacific Coast with Jim Jeffries on Friday, Fitz told Delaney to go ahead and arrange a match for him with McCoy, the same to be held in San Francisco. Delaney is due to arrive in California to-morrow and if he receives a favorable reply, Fitz will promptly post $1,000 with Smith and sign articles. The Cornishman does not like the idea of fighting six rounds with McCoy. He thinks that he can draw a larger house in a long mill and there are many who agree with him in this respect. McCoy is slated to start for California in company with Jack Munroe next week.

EDWIN GOULD'S GIFT TO ROWING. $10,000 Donated to Columbia Crew-Interest to Be Applied to Expenses. rew, yesterday announced the gift of $10,000 to the crew by Edwin Gould, who was graduated from the local college in 1882. The money was presented in the form of an endowed fund, the annual interest of which, amounting to some $400, is to be used as part of the expense of maintaining and equipping the Columbia crews. This is not the first donation of Mr. Gould to the rowing the first donation of Mr. Gould to the rowing club. When the university was removed to its present site, Mr. Gould presented the boathouse at 115th street and the Hudson River. The building cost $30,000, and is the most complete of its kind in the country. While at Columbia, Mr. Gould rowed in his class crew and took a lively interest in aquatics.

The idea of endowing cheek are in a rather new one. Only a few weeks ago it was suggested by President Harper of the University of Chicago to endow all forms of sport embraced in the activities of the Western Conference of colleges in order to do away with paid admissions. The idea was condemned as impracticable, but the gift of Mr. Gould is a refutation of that theory.

Record Entry for Local Grand Circuit Meetings.

Secretary Reeves announced yesterday that all records for stake nominations have gone by the board with the closing of the nominations to the stakes for the Empire and nations to the stakes for the Empire and Brighton Grand Circuit meetings. The twelve events, aggregating $48,000, have received a total of 260 individual entries, and the list includes nearly every prominent owner whose stable is of Grand Circuit calibre. For the 2:10 class trot there are twenty nominations, the list including such stars as Sadie Mac, 2:111/4, the Kentucky Futurity as Sadie Mac, 2:11%, the Kentucky Futurity winner, now owned by E. E. Smathers: John Traylor, 2:10%, winner of the $10,000 M. and M. last year: Topsy, 2:00%; Prince Greenlander, 2:00%; Dan Wilkes, 2:00%; Dr. Strong, 2:00%, and others of similar class.

The 2:08 class pace for $5,000 has nineteen nominations, including nearly all the stars of pacerdom that are eligible to start. The entire list far exceeds the big list of the Empire meeting last year, and lovers of the sport can look forward to two weeks of better and faster contests than have ever been given in the metropolis.

English Champion Ready to Fight Joe Gans. Jewey Cooke, the English 140 pound champion, who arrived in this country a few weeks ago, yesterday issued a challenge to have it out with Joe Gans. Cooke agrees to meet the dusky lightweight champion at catch-weights for as much money as the negro's backers will put up. To a reporter of The Sun yesterday Cooke had this to say:

"I have travelled over 3,000 miles to get an engagement in this country. Somehow I've been ignored, for reasons I cannot explain. I do not lack in the way of good backing. I can command any amount up to $5,000. I have a wealthy backer in England who will put up as much money as I request him. I came here to fight Gans, and if he will take me on at catchweights I will arrange a bout forthwith."

Cooke began training yesterday at a roadthe dusky lightweight champion at catch-I will arrange a bout forthwith."

Cooke began training yesterday at a roadhouse in The Bronx. Cooke is a likely looking fellow. He resembles Dave Sullivan very much. Cooke, according to Charlie Mitchell, is one of the best 140 pounders England has turned out in years. He thinks be will make his mark in this country.

SAVES A WOMAN FROM FIRE. Stark Carries Out Mrs. Berman, Who Was Overcome in Her Store.

Mrs. Miriam Berman was rescued yester day afternoon from a fire in her candy store at 1830 Madison avenue by Frank G. Stark, an inventor, of 118 West 114th treat the fire started next door, in the street. The fire started next door, in the real estate office of Seaman & Moore, and quickly spread to the candy store. Mrs. Berman went back to get her savings from a safe and was overcome by smoke. Stark was in front of the store when some-body yelled that there was a woman inside.

He ran into the place and carried Mrs. Berman out. She soon came to. The fire destroyed the contents of the two stores. BROTHERS KILLED ON RAIL. One Wore Badge 13 of the Babylon Fire
